In order to offer online education, the Sophia Online Degree College, Bangalore was founded in the year 2022. The online education format will show effective in a variety of circumstances in India, where people and their preferred College are frequently separated by significant distances, impeding the mainstream sort of Study. People must increase their knowledge and expertise in order to stay current in their fields of employment due to the rapid change that science and technology are undergoing. People who want to continue their education but lack the convenience can find opportunities thanks to online learning. The instructor and the student are geographically and chronologically separated in remote literacy or distance education. Distance education has evolved from the correspondence programme system with the addition of new features. Open literacy, on the other hand, describes a situation in which students adopt the tone-instruction method and complete programmes built around specifically prescribed literacy requirements, reinforced by contact classes and exams. Technology advancements are not inescapably a part of open learning, which suggests a gospel of open admission and access to learning opportunities. The use of distance literacy involves modern technical tools. These delineations may be subject to some minor disagreements. Open universities have advanced significantly in recent years as a result of the high demand for facilities that differ from those provided by traditional institutions. We offer correspondence programs like Correspondence BA, Correspondence B.com, Correspondence M.A, Correspondence M.com, Correspondence MBA, Correspondence BBA, Correspondence BSc, Correspondence MSc, Distance BCA, Online MCA, Correspondence B.Ed., Correspondence D.Ed., and Distance Diploma.
