SKZ Intelligent Equipment Co. , Ltd., located in China's innovation center Shenzhen with 27.3 million RMB registered capital , is a professional high-tech company which devoted itself to design, development, production, sales and after sales service mainly for civil engineering fields, providing high-quality intelligent construction equipment, and related supporting services.

The company is committed to improve the national construction machinery automation level, optimize the construction process, improve project efficiency and contribute to the promotion of national scientific and technological progress. The company focuses on the successful development of CNC stirrup bender which greatly facilitates the manufacture of stirrup from coiled steel wire or straight bar ; CNC rebar bending center improves the efficiency of large-diameter rebar bending process; CNC cage welding machine is a good helper in precise fabricating of Steel Reinforcement Cage ; CNC rebar shear-line is perfect machinery for putting rebar processing on basis of a assembly line ; 8-shape stirrup moulding line makes production efficiency of tunnel grid arch greatly improved. Wire mesh welding machine and Lattice girder welding machine are structure suppliers for different precast parts. Different types of wire straightening and cutting machine to make straight bar from coil. After years of efforts on innovation, the products we delivered with stable performance, excellent quality and good after-sales services participated in many large-scale projects at home and abroad and won the respect and trust from users.
