Dr Preeti works with women to help give them that push of self-confidence because she feels that women who are comfortable about how they look are not just happy but confident in their life. She partners with women to help them feel and look younger on the inside and out.

Dr Yadav offers specialised surgical procedures to meet your needs, whether you're unhappy with the way your breasts look, the extra fat on your stomach, or even Burn and Wound management after severe injuries.

She never stops learning to give her patients access to the best and most recent medical science and technology has to give. All of her patients receive individualised counselling from her, and confidentiality is her priority. She truly prioritises being a patient's friend over being a doctor.
