What's the kigtropin ?

kigtropin is one of the most potent recombinant Human Growth Hormones on the market today. It is a proper 191 amino acid sequence Somatropin (natural to human body) and is produced by GeneScience Pharmaceutical Co, Ltd.

kigtropin is created using secretion technology. Genetically modified E.coli bacteria secrete human body's identical somatropin which is then isolated and freeze dried. This method produces a very stable form of a molecule, which is otherwise too fragile to survive room temperatures or shaking. When freeze dried it remains stable at 37C (98F degrees) for over 30 days or 45C degrees for over a week.

According to IMS, an internationally recognized marketing firm, kigtropin is the absolute market leader in China with just over 75% of market share. It was first introduced in 1997 when it was the first somatropin brand produced in China.
