Development in Urban and Rural parts of the country have created a huge demand for systematic and upgraded drainage systems. Not only in the households but in commercial spaces also, proper drainage is equally necessary for uninterrupted working and steady flow of water through its channels. Over here uPVC Pipes and fittings come into play, uPVC (Unplasticized polyvinyl chloride), are in much demand when it comes to pipe fittings in commercial or residential spaces. Due to its high resistance to chemical substances, it is considered an ideal choice amongst plumbers.

Natraj Pipes, serving the industry since 2006 has had rapid and diversified growth years and years, now has been recognised as the best and leading company in manufacturing uPVC and HDPE pipes.
