Century Plyboards (India) Ltd. (CPIL) is the first ISO 9002 Company in India for plywood and veneers. In a very short span, it has created a niche for itself and is the market leader in this sector. Its cornerstone was laid in Kolkata in 1986 by Shri Sajjan Bhajanka and Shri Sanjay Agarwal. The company has since transformed into a one-point manufacturing unit of all kinds of plywood and plywood related products, offering international quality and highest Return-on-Investment to every stakeholder.

Always on the path of innovation, their latest offering is a range of ViroKill products-- All previously antibacterial and antifungal CenturyLaminates & CenturyPly are now also certified antiviral. The use of nanotechnology to manufacture the products helps them kill up to 99.99% viruses, keeping all furniture hygienic and safe.

The recent product innovations are inspired by the changing global home décor trends as well as changing lifestyles and are aimed at providing a wide choice of globally trending plywood products. The company strives to achieve ground-breaking success by following a simple business philosophy of always keeping the consumer needs first.
