Cybernetik Technologies is an Indian based industrial automation and robotics manufacturing company. We provide customised automation solutions for the food, pharmaceutical, chemical, and manufacturing industries across the world. Initially Cybernetik Technologies was set up as a consultancy in 1989 by a group of engineers from the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT)-Madras, India and the State University of New York at Buffalo, USA. Now we have two design offices in India with and four manufacturing plants. We provide automation and robotics solutions to tackle complex industrial challenges for a global clientele through innovation and advanced technologies.
