Typesetting/Layout/Formatting in multiple languages.

Business around the world need to give communications in the native language of their global customers, business partners, and employees. Layout is generally the last phase of a typical translation project, and what gives it a final appearance. No matter how good the quality of the translation may be, even a small layout error can dramatically impact how users perceive the product or brand.

‘DTP Labs’, with production centers in Eastern Europe and Asia, provides multilingual desktop publishing (DTP) Services in all World languages. We work with Western languages (like French, Dutch, German, Portuguese), languages that use non-western scripts (like Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Thai), languages that use bi-directional scripts (like Arabic, Hebrew, Urdu, Farsi) and Indic languages (like Hindi, Gujarati, Bengali, Tamil etc).
