Dental care, unlike other medical treatments, is a life-long process. What people need is not a dental expert, but a dental health partner who can guide them through this process at every step of their life.

My father, Dr. Sanjay Joshi, started Creative Dental in 1980 with a vision to foster such life-long relationships with our patients by offering all global dental solutions, and for all families, under one roof.

Our goal is to go beyond offering treatments and offer the best smile your face can have.
