The Finishol range of cleaning products comes from the house of Ashok Chemicals, a company responsible for some of the most revolutionary, eco-friendly cleaning products, since 1961. We believe in cleaning as a ritual of cleansing which is synonymous with the protection of all that we hold dear.

Our resolve to have #NoHarmDone to humans, businesses, or the environment has motivated us to create products that focus on your wellbeing, the profits of your business, and our larger goal of creating a better world to live in. This fervent pursuit has inspired the development of path-breaking cleaning products, some of which are pending patent approvals.
