Gempro's journey began in 2007 as a B2B brand specializing in gemstones products. We have curated, sourced and supplied products across France, China, the USA, U.K and more. With a strong hand in global supply-chain, and streamlined inventory management. We wish to capitalize on our past success and expand our venture to a global B2C audience with the launch of our new online store specializing in genuine gemstone products. We have in our design team industry-best product designers, illustrators and customer crazy ninjas who focus on creating beautiful and thoughtful products that spark joy in your life. Be it young fashionistas scouting for designer collections, or working women seeking natural elegance in everyday life, or men and women looking for unique and artistic lifestyle products. There is something everyone can pick up at our e-store.

We at Gempro put a lot of time, energy, and love into everything we do and are passionately driven towards our vision of becoming a globally loved brand when it comes to lifestyle & jewelry products.

Our vision is to become the most desirable lifestyle brand while spreading the brilliance and positivity of gemstones. Our mission is to create quality gemstone products with industry best designs at surprising rates supported by customer crazy service.

Gempro is not only quality conscious but environmentally conscious as well. We follow ethical, ecological and sustainable practices that cause no harm to our mother earth.
