MIER began in 2008 with a singular mission: to create durable, high-performance products without the premium price tag that consumers would expect to find on such high-quality outdoor gear. For over 10 years, we have continued to expand our product line into a wide range of categories including apparels, bags, tents, air pads. In addition, all of our products are backed by limited warranty guarantee, ensuring that MIER will be with you on all of your future outdoor adventures.

The MIER family of brands offers quality performance gear at an affordable price. The talent and knowledge that MIER employees bring to the brand results in beneficial partnerships, creative sourcing and exceptional product lines. MIER is constantly evolving to bring together and provide gear for campers, hunters and hikers--and those who do it all.

At MIER, we believe the voice of the customer is extremely important. We value your feedback and hope to become an even better company by hearing what you and others have to say about the MIER products and customer experience.
