Munot Metalloys is a leading manufacturer of superior copper tubes, brass tubes and other copper alloy tubes. Our company was initially a trading company for copper products started by Mr Prakashmal Munot. After gaining confidence and seeing the vast potential in the copper and brass tube market, our first manufacturing unit was commenced in the year 1986 .We are a pioneer in the Indian copper and brass industry since 35 years. We have a vast range of products in different grades and shapes (Round/Square/Rectangular). Brass tubes are our speciality and are exported all over the world .Our products can be applied to an array of applications like Electrical Systems, Heat Exchangers and Condensers and Automobiles. We have been catering the HVAC and other heating element industries with utmost efficiency. We have an overseas office in Vietnam for better facilitation of our export customers.
