In the new age, the speed with which businesses are building and the economy is scaling up is driving the traditional ways of handling issues to adapt to smart ways of working. Whether it is booking your favourite movie, or plane ticket, or buying insurance and just ordering food at your doorstep businesses are looking at new and friendly ways of doing their activities. Understanding this, businesses are now outsourcing their marketing, finance activities and in line are the housing societies and individuals who are outsourcing the tedious and boring work.

This changing scenario gave birth to the 'My Society Manager' concept and as the name suggests, we are here to lessen the burden of Housing societies by providing skilled assistance in addressing managerial requirements of a Co-op Society. We bring in our expertise of managing many housing societies to the table thereby easing and streamlining the regular works according to the need of your society requirements by categorizing them.

Our offerings are flexible and customized depending on the size and need of a Co-op Society. As My Society manager we assist the management, provide consultancy in matters needed and act as a service platform for various other requirements.
