Designing a world class ERP product which is process driven and not function/module driven makes it compact and seamlessly integrated. Keep improving the product based on the feedback of on-site implementations.

Enhancing core ERP Product with multiple domain integration for various business verticals. Integrating horizontally from SCM to CRM. Integrating vertically from core ERP to data warehousing to big data analytics to derive business intelligence from the core accumulated ERP data. Porting Product to the state of art and relevant platforms like smart phones.

Process driven Implementation methodology ensures that even SMEs can simultaneously automate all business processes in the most tightly integrated manner at affordable cost.

One product One source code ensures continuous consistent and timely product enhancement to all customers
