Founded in 1988, Pragati Leadership grew out of the founders, Arun and Anu Wakhlu's vision to create work environments and organizations that encourage individuals to harness their true inner potential for their work.

At the time, this was a revolutionary concept since the prevalent industry practice was to view people as resources to generate output or complete tasks. We have refined our distinctive approach over the years to offer a balanced combination of working with people's inner potential and facilitators like procedures, practices, models, and tools. Arun and Anu have both worked with top management of businesses to assist them in creating or recreating organizational DNA in order to align their businesses with their mission and vision.
