Our body is changing every day so are our body needs.

We constantly ignore intimacy issues for various reasons like shyness to discuss, lack of awareness, self or partner's needs, missing understanding for changes happening to one's body, may think these are not important or consider them as natural ageing process.

We researched on these issues like changes in our body, ageing, lack of understanding, usage of multi products, availability, unrealized social factors like discussing with someone or buying across the shelf, storage at home, safety & cost as the major considerations before selecting and buying any intimacy product.

With proper understanding to address these issues we came up with VIGINI. Our aim is to continue identify and formulate products for Women & Men which fulfill unmet or undisclosed needs of our body, which work safely with natural actives and provide value for money.

An extensive study for Safety of Products, Consumer & Social Needs is the guiding light for formulating our products.

Vigini products are scientifically formulated for benefits avoiding usage of multiple products for issues that coexist,
